African Missions

Greetings from East Africa
Whereas the first part of the month was spent with my guest, Coburn, the last part was spent in South Sudan. I had to shift into overdrive to get my visa and other paper work permitting us to do the campaign but in the end, it all did get done. I met my guests in the airport of the capital city Juba. The next day we flew to Kapoeta where we worked for the next 5 days. This was the first time for most of the small team to visit these areas. I say small because 4 of the original 10 had to back out of coming due to medical reasons of their own. Besides the medical treatment (we saw over 500 people) we evangelized and saw just over 100 professions of faith. The numbers ranged from 30 one day to just one on another. On that particular day, a Catholic catechist was brought to me and wanted to know more about this message we were preaching. His wife and two sons had joined with our church earlier and after seeing the changes in their lives, he wanted to know more. We all rejoiced and praised the Lord after hearing him pray. When the MacMed team left, I stayed behind to teach a seminar. I'll report on that next month.

Thanks to all of you who are having a place in this ministry. E.D.H.
